Hurricane Irma and Quarterly Estimated Tax Payment Relief

The Internal Revenue Service has granted tax relief postponing various tax filings and payment deadlines. As a result, affected individuals and businesses will have until January 31, 2018, to file returns and pay taxes that were originally due during this period.

This includes the September 15, 2017 and January 16, 2018 deadlines for making quarterly estimated tax payments. For individual tax filers, it also includes 2016 income tax returns that received a tax-filing extension until October 16, 2017. The IRS noted, however, that because tax payments related to these 2016 returns were originally due April 18, 2017, those payments are not eligible for this relief.
